Attributes were assigned from a standard array.

Class Abilities: Once per scene, you can reroll a failed skill check, taking the new roll if it's better.

Skills: Administer-1, Connect-1, Notice-0, Shoot-1, Talk-0, Trade-0

Foci: Alert-1, Connected-1, Diplomat-1

Equipment

- Readied: Ammo (20 rounds), Backpack (TL 4), Secure Clothing, Semi-Auto Pistol
- Stowed: Compad, Field Radio, 3 x Rations (1 day), Survival Kit, Trade Goods, Trade Metals
- Cached: Pressure tent, Vacc Suit
- Credits: $30

Readied Items: 3 (Unencumbered: up to 4, Light Enc: up to 6, Heavy Enc.: up to 8)

Stowed Items: 5 (Unencumbered: up to 9, Light Enc: up to 13, Heavy Enc.: up to 17)

Armor

- AC 13 vs low-tech (TL3 or lower) weapons: Readied Secure Clothing gives base AC 13
- AC 13 vs high-tech (TL4 or higher) melee weapons and all firearms: Readied Secure Clothing gives base AC 13

Ranged Weapons

- Semi-Auto Pistol: +2 to hit, 1d6+1 dmg, rng 30/100, mag 12, TL 3, TL 3

Melee Weapons

- Unarmed Attack: -1 to hit, 1d2 dmg, Unarmed attacks always add the attacker's Punch skill to damage rolls, unlike other weapons., TL 0, TL 0

Foci

- Alert: You are keenly aware of your surroundings and virtually impossible to take unaware. You have an instinctive alacrity of response that helps you act before less wary persons can think to move.
 - Level 1: Gain Notice as a bonus skill. You cannot be surprised, nor can others use the Execution Attack option on you. When you roll initiative, roll twice and take the best result.
- Connected: You're remarkably gifted at making friends and forging ties with the people around you. Wherever you go, you always seem to know somebody useful to your ends.
 - Level 1: Gain Connect as a bonus skill. If you've spent at least a week in a not-entirely-hostile location, you'll have built a web of contacts willing to do favors for you that are no more than mildly illegal. You can call on one favor per game day and the GM decides how far they'll go for you.

- Diplomat: You know how to get your way in personal negotiations, and can manipulate the attitudes of those around you. Even so, while smooth words are versatile, they'll only work if your interlocutor is actually willing to listen to you.
- Level 1: Gain Talk as a bonus skill. You speak all the languages common to the sector and can learn new ones to a workable level in a week, becoming fluent in a month. Reroll 1s on any skill check dice related to negotiation or diplomacy.

Equipment Descriptions

- Ammo, 20 rounds: A few worlds are too primitive or too resource-poor to manufacture ammunition, but the vast majority of worlds provide cartridges in almost every conceivable caliber and make. Most local gunsmiths can load ammunition to any specification required by a buyer. (enc. 1 for 3)
- Backpack (TL 4): TL4 versions of this item are effectively without encumbrance, albeit they cost 50 credits. A worn backpack counts as a readied item, though objects stowed inside it still require the usual round to dig free. Characters without backpacks or similar carrying devices might have difficulty justifying the hauling of large amounts of gear. (enc. 0)
- Compad: One of a host of different hand-held portable communications devices. Most TL4 worlds have global comm coverage, but primitive worlds render these devices useless without a nearby comm server to provide connectivity. (enc. -)
- Field Radio: On worlds too primitive to have a comm grid, adventurers often fall back on these headset-mounted field radios. A single type A cell powers them for months of use. Urban or rugged terrain limits their range to about two kilometers, while flat plains give a maximum range of thirty kilometers. Someone with at least Program-0 skill can use the radio's shortwave functionality to communicate with a prepared target at continental distances if given ten minutes for tuning. (enc. 1)
- Pressure tent: This tent maintains a breathable atmosphere, tolerable temperature and serviceable sleeping quarters for up to five very friendly occupants. Advanced filtration and cracking tech allows a single standard vacc suit oxygen tank to provide breathable air for the occupants for up to 24 hours. The tent requires a type A power cell for each day in which this filter is employed. (enc. 4)
- Rations, 1 day: Dried or otherwise preserved foodstuffs sufficient for one day. If water is not otherwise available, add another item's worth of encumbrance for the water necessary for a person's daily needs. (enc. 1 for 3)
- Secure Clothing: Secure clothing comes in assorted styles and fashions ranging from casual street wear to haute couture. Normal fabrics and components are replaced with light, flexible armor components that are only slightly hindering to the wearer. Only close tactile examination can distinguish secure clothing from ordinary couture. (enc. 1)
- Semi-Auto Pistol: Semi-automatic pistols trade some of the reliability of the revolver for a larger magazine size. They tend to be the favorite sidearm for locals on planets that lack the harsh conditions or uncertain maintenance opportunities of a frontier world. (enc. 1)
- Survival Kit: A standard belt-worn kit with fire lighter, water filter, three thermal flares, knife, thermal blanket, a brightly-colored 3 x 3 meter waterproof tarp, a glowbug, and a radio beacon that can transmit a distress signal up to fifty kilometers for one month on the included type A power cell. Survival kits sold on a particular world will usually also include a small booklet on specific dangers or edible organics. Possession of a survival kit grants a +1 to all relevant Survive skill checks, assuming its contents are helpful on a given planet. Survival kits are well-organized, and count as only one item for encumbrance purposes. (enc. 1)
- Trade Goods: Glowbugs, ceramic fire lighters, antibiotics, ceraplast tools, and the other fruits of a TL4 civilization that might be valuable on more primitive worlds. A kilo of trade goods can usually be traded for at least a hundred credits worth of local products on more primitive worlds that are not well-served by interstellar merchants. The profit margin shrinks rapidly as interstellar trade becomes more common, and there is always the difficulty of finding local products that are actually worth a merchant's journey. (enc. 1 for 3)
- Trade Metals: The fruit of common TL4 asteroid mining, trade metals include gold, platinum, artificial gemstones, and other substances precious on many lost worlds and trivially valuable on spacefaring ones. A kilo worth of trade metals can be exchanged for as much as a thousand credits worth of local products on metal-poor worlds isolated from interstellar trade. Markets flood rapidly, however, and it usually doesn't take more than a few merchant trips to persuade the locals to demand trade goods or credits. (enc. 1 for 3)

- Unarmed Attack: Unarmed attacks reflect ordinary kicks and punches. Unarmed attacks always add the attacker's Punch skill to damage rolls, unlike other weapons. Kinesis wraps, spiked knuckles, and other small fist weapons may be treated as small advanced or primitive weapons that use the Punch skill and add the skill level to their rolled damage, but not to Shock. Such weapons do not augment a hero with the Unarmed Combatant focus. (enc. 0)
- Vacc Suit: The standard TL4 vacc suit is designed to allow the wearer to survive in both hard vacuum and on most inhospitable planetary surfaces. The suit protects against ordinary levels of cosmic radiation and provides a temperature-controlled atmosphere. Vacc suits are equipped with radios that have a ten-kilometer range. A vacc suit oxygen tank weighs 1 encumbrance, included with the weight of the suit, and functions for six hours. Vacc suits are cumbersome, and apply a -2 penalty to all hit rolls and skill checks that require movement. Those with at least a month of zero-gee experience can ignore this penalty. No armor can be worn with a vacc suit, though the suit itself grants AC 13 to its wearers. A vacc suit requires one type A power cell for each twelve hours of operation. Vacc suits have a self-healing exterior that can seal the puncture wounds caused by bullets, arrows, or energy beams, but a strike from an edged weapon can overwhelm the repair system. If a character with 10 or fewer hit points is struck by an edged weapon, there is a 50% chance the suit is torn. Suits are equipped with emergency repair patches, but it requires a Main Action to apply one. Exposure to vacuum is described on page 58. (enc. 2)

Skills

- Administer (Level 1): Manage an organization, handle paperwork, analyze records, and keep an institution functioning on a daily basis. Roll it for bureaucratic expertise, organizational management, legal knowledge, dealing with government agencies, and understanding how institutions really work.
- Connect (Level 1): Find people who can be helpful to your purposes and get them to cooperate with you. Roll it to make useful connections with others, find people you know, know where to get illicit goods and services, and be familiar with foreign cultures and languages. You can use it in place of Talk for persuading people you find via this skill.
- Notice (Level 0): Spot anomalies or interesting facts about your environment. Roll it for searching places, detecting ambushes, spotting things, and reading the emotional state of other people.
- Shoot (Level 1): Use Shoot as a combat skill when using ranged weaponry, whether hurled rocks, bows, laser pistols, combat rifles, or ship's gunnery.
- Talk (Level 0): Convince other people of the facts you want them to believe. What they do with that conviction may not be completely predictable. Roll it to persuade, charm, or deceive others in conversation.
- Trade (Level 0): Find what you need on the market and sell what you have. Roll it to sell or buy things, figure out where to purchase hard-to-get or illicit goods, deal with customs agents, or run a business.
